

LARGE INDUSTRIES COMING TO EDMONTON

Council Considers Propositions For Packing Plant, New Brewery And Large Iron Works

At last night's council meeting three large industrial propositions came up for consideration, each of which will mean much to the city of Edmonton, and all of which will undoubtedly be working within a year.

The propositions were A. O. Dwyer's packing plant, the Edmonton Brewing Co.'s new plant, and Munro Bros.' wire and iron works.

A. O. Dwyer's proposition has already been made public through the columns of the Bulletin. Mr. Dwyer offered to build a packing plant costing at least $500,000, providing the city would extend the water main and light to the site of the plant and furnish him with water and light free. Mr. Dwyer came before the council last night and submitted his proposition, asking for an immediate answer as there were certain steps in the matter which he wanted to take at once. City Engineer Keely reported that to comply with Mr. Dwyer's request requires the construction of three miles of water main and pipe line, costing $22,500.

Mr. Dwyer stated that it would not be necessary to commence work at once, so long as the water and light was there when the plant was ready to work. He offered to put up a bond to guarantee to the city the cost of construction should he fail in his part of the undertaking.

Ald. Griesbach stated that the city had adopted a policy which, in brief, meant that it would bonus no one, but that water and light would be furnished to all manufacturers at cost.

Ald. Manson moved and Ald. Smith seconded that the water and light service be extended to the proposed site of Mr. Dwyer's plant and that he be furnished with water and light at cost. The motion passed and the commissioners and city solicitor were instructed to prepare an agreement.

Mr. Kerr, representing the Edmonton Brewing Co., was also before the council asking for a definite answer to the proposition which they made some time ago, to build a $250,000 brewing plant provided the city secured for them a site, for which the company would pay cost price, and furnish water and light at cost, also extending the sewer service to the plant.

The committee told off some time ago to look into the proposition reported that they had found two blocks in the Great estate which would make an excellent site and which could be purchased for $7,200. As the site was inside the city limits the extension of the water, sewer and light service to that part of the town was something that would have to be done any way. The report was adopted and an agreement will be prepared offering to turn the site over to the company at cost and furnish water and light at cost.

The third proposition, from Munro Bros., came up in the form of a letter. This firm makes wire mattresses, wire fences, crests for buildings and several other varieties of ornamental wire and iron work. They have extensive plants already in Truro, N.S., and Winnipeg, and propose extending westward. The heads of the firm visited the city with the Manufacturers' association and are familiar with the lay of the land here. In their letter they stated that they did not ask or want any bonus, but would like to have all the favors that the city is in a position to extend in the way of cheap water, light and power, and cheap sites. The commissioners were instructed to reply offering water, light and power at cost and informing Munro Bros. that the city had some sites adjoining the C. N. R. track which would probably suit a works such as theirs and which they could have at cost.

In this connection the mayor stated that the time had now arrived when the city council should appoint an industrial committee to look after propositions such as these, as they would now be coming in all the time. The council coincided with this view but owing to the lateness in the year it is not probable that anything along these lines will be done by the present council.

RAILROADS PINCHED THE COAL.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 20.—The coal famine in the Dakotas is rapidly assuming serious proportions. Inquiry brought to light the fact that little or no coal is being hauled to the Dakotas from the Twin Cities and that coal assigned for Dakota destinations has been utilized by railroad companies for their own needs.

TOWN DESTROYED.

Salisbury, M.D., Nov. 20.—The town of Stockton, Worcester county, Maryland, was visited by a fire last night which destroyed every business house except the Stockton bank. Clarence Parson, clerk, was burned to death. He was asleep in the store in which the fire originated. Sixteen buildings were burned.

BAD WEATHER AT MAPLE CREEK.

NORTHERN FACILITIES

Drowning Accidents In Northern Waters Reported at Victoria

Bulletin Special.
Victoria, B.C., Nov. 20.—News of several fatalities in the north reached here today through the arrival of the Steamer Princess Beatrice and Venture. Adam Sutton and a companion attempted to cross the river from Nasse Harbour to Fishery Bay when their boat was caught in a squall and upset. After struggling for some time in the turbulent waters the men managed to get on to the keel of the upturned boat. To this they clung until Sutton's strength gave out. To keep him from drowning his companion tied him to the boat with the anchor line and in this manner the two remained many hours. Finally Sutton perished from exposure and his companion would have met a similar fate but for timely assistance. A Norwegian named Matson was picked up by the steamer Bonanza. King in Lake La Barge after drifting three days on an upturned boat. He was bound for Circle City and was exhausted. Still another boating fatality is reported in Wrangell Narrows, where on November 11 a boat was upset and an unknown man and a Jap drowned.

EXPLOSION IN A HOTEL.

Bulletin Special.
Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—Last night the Leland hotel here was wrecked by a severe explosion. About 10.30 in the evening two of the employees went to the rear of the building to attend the acetylene gas machine. It is supposed that one of the men was carrying a lamp and that the machine had been leaking. A few minutes later a terrific explosion occurred. The partition between the kitchen and dining room was blown down and a number of the windows were blown out. The west wall is bulged out two feet. The concussion of the air raised the roof in the east sample room but it fell back into place as soon as the pressure was removed. Every one except Ed. Straube, who received burns on his face and hands, escaped without injury. The damage to the building will probably be between $2,000 and $3,000. The work of repairing was commenced early this morning and the hotel will be ready for occupation within a short time.

NEW HOCKEY TEAM.

A meeting of the employees of Revillon Bros. Ltd., was held in the firm's sample rooms last night for the purpose of organizing a hockey club. About thirty-five were present and the following officers were elected: Hon. president—Theo. Revillon Jr. President—T. W. Rourke. Vice-President—C. W. Marshall. Secretary—W. McC. Moore. Treasurer—C. J. Banford. Manager—J. W. Morris. Executive committee—Lorne Muir, E. B. O'Brien, G. Macfarlane, R. B. Harvey, J. Mohr. It was decided that the club's colors should be dark blue with yellow and red trimmings. A strong team will be entered in the League, which will be known as Revillon's Crescents.

PROSPECTORS WERE KILLED

Land Slide Caused Flood Which Swept Away A Cabin

Bulletin Special.
Victoria, B.C., Nov. 20.—Incessant rains on the northern mainland coast of British Columbia and the western seaboard of Vancouver Island are causing heavy property loss, inundating low lands, driving the settlers in terror from their humble homes and in several cases carrying them, overtaken in the flight, to their deaths, in a mad whirl of debris-choked yellow flood. Near the head of Knight's inlet last week the incessant down-pour was responsible for such a loosening of the almost precipitous hills that an avalanche was relieved which sweeping bare the mountain side with a sudden roar dammed up the gorge of Knight's river, giving birth within an hour to a lake many acres in extent, which in turn carried away the dam caused by the original slide. This new avalanche of water, mud and trees hurled itself onward with almost incredible rapidity overwhelming a cabin on the river bank and burying the occupants alive. They were C. P. Culpet and Joseph Adams, two prospectors. Timothy Evans, a third victim, was drowned and the fate of several other residents of the valley is in doubt.

TOWN MEETING.

Mayor May has asked the city engineer and the city commissioners to prepare a statement of the amount of money invested in municipal enterprises, so as to show how much capital the city has actually put into the electric light, water works, sewers, telephone, etc. He has also asked that a careful estimate be prepared of the amount of public work done within the past year, such as sidewalk, extension of water, light and sewer, etc. The matter came up at the council last night and it was decided to hold a town meeting in the Thistle rink on Wednesday, December 5th, which is two days after the nomination and two days before the election. All the aldermen of the retiring council will be there to give their experiences and the candidates for the next council will be given a chance to express their views of how things should be managed. The figures asked for by the mayor will give a pretty clear idea of what the city has done and what it has to do. It is ready in time should form the basis of some spirited debate.

The town meeting, which is an annual event, is like the general annual meeting of an immense stock company, and the city—which is the company—has larger undertakings on at the present time than any other city in Canada. The annual meeting this year will undoubtedly be crowded to the curb with not a dull moment from song to curtain.

EMPIRE LEAGUE.

Premier Rutherford has received an invitation from the League of the Empire to attend an educational convention in London, England, next May. The purpose of the convention is to discuss the uniformity of the text books used in the various schools and colleges of Great Britain and the colonies, and other educational matters affecting the welfare of the Empire. Premier Rutherford stated that he has accepted the invitation and will go to England next May. The League of the Empire is an organization wholly educational in its organization, methods and aims of promoting a sane imperialism throughout the colonies and the motherland. The head office is in London, England, Caxton hall, Westminster. The president is Lord Tennyson, son of the famous poet laureate, Lord Strathcona is past president. The vice-presidents, the federal council and representative members of the League, comprise the governors of the various colonies and dependencies, the ministers and superintendents of education in all the colonies, presidents of all British and colonial universities. The organization of the league provides for a history section, nature study section, school museum section. Any information regarding the league may be obtained from Mrs. Ord. ## YET ANOTHER MAN MISSING

Man From The Arcola District Supposed To Have Perished

Bulletin Special.
Regina, Nov. 20.—Another victim at least, it is now believed must be added to the list of those who perished in the Windsor hotel fire here yesterday. W. N. Robinson, of Lajord, on the Arcola branch, it is stated was a guest in the hotel at the time of the outbreak and has not since been seen, and there is felt to be only too little doubt as to his fate. A large number of men are at work searching the hotel ruins for traces of the victims. At an early hour this evening bones were discovered which are believed to be those of a human being. Should this turn out to be the fact, an inquest will be started the first thing tomorrow morning. The coroner, Dr. Thompson, is in communication with the provincial government and is acting more or less under their instructions. The city council and the city fire brigade have already engaged counsel to represent them at the inquest at which it is believed the government will also be represented.

C. P. R. MAY GET PERE MARQUETTE.

St. Thomas, Ont., Nov. 20.—Pere Marquette officials here look for the Canadian Pacific to take over the Pere Marquette lines in Canada in a very short time. Those in a position to know declare that everything points that way. Their contention is strengthened by the fact that the C. P. R. are seeking entrance to Sarnia and this could be secured by utilizing the Erie and Huron branch. The C. P. R. would also be able to get a good route into Buffalo by means of the M. C. R., over which the Pere Marquette have running rights or by the Pere Marquette's unused charter for a line between St. Thomas and Buffalo.

BY-LAWS TO BE SUBMITTED FOR ST. RAILWAY AND PAVING

Council Takes First Step Last Night To Furnish Edmonton With Street Car Line. Voting Dec. 17th.

The city council have two notable achievements to their credit as an outcome of last night's meeting, achievements the effects of which will be in existence when the personnel of the present council is forgotten.

They turned down unanimously an offer of the Canadian White Company to take over the street railway franchise and they took the first steps toward the construction of the electric street railway as a municipally-owned and operated enterprise by framing the bylaws for the purchase of the steel rails.

At the same time bylaws were prepared to cover the paving work which is to be undertaken by the city and with this goes the laying of the concrete bed for the street car track and the laying of the track.

The paving bylaw calls for the expenditure of $121,000, which is calculated to pay for the city's share of the street paving, (one-third on Jasper and one-fifth on Namayo, McDougall and First), to provide the cost of the street intersections and to pay for the laying of the concrete base for a double track street car line.

The supply bylaw, that is the one for the purchase of steel rails, is for $49,000. It proposes to purchase 100 pound girder rails for a double track line from Kinitino to Ninth, on Jasper, and from Jasper to the C. N. R. on First, a total length of 1-1-4 miles. All this work, being on the paved section, is to be put down in permanent shape, with the heaviest and latest pattern of girder rails, ties laid on cement foundation that will be immovable, rails copper connected, in fact everything right up to date and good to last at least one hundred years.

Stepping off the paved sections, however, the whole thing is the other way on. The tracks on the unpaved sections are to be considered temporary and are to be single track lines, built with 60 pound T rails. The understanding is that these tracks will have to come up when the paving is extended and that therefore it would not be good business to put in an expensive track.

The proposition laid down by the commissioners calls for a double track as heretofore stated, from Kinitino to Ninth on Jasper, and from Ninth they propose to build a single track out to Twenty-first street, which is the edge of the Great estate. On First they will put in double track up to Isabella street, which is as far as the pavement goes, and from there north to Edmonston street, around Edmonston street to Kinitino and back down Kinitino to Jasper—which is to be the belt—it will be single track.

The bylaw passed last night to raise $49,000 contemplates only the purchase of the steel and the actual laying of the track. The cost of the concrete base and of the paving of the tracks and devil strip will be charged up for purposes of construction.

tion to the general paving work, but will afterwards be transferred to the street railway account when the items of cost can be properly designated.

The two bylaws passed last night by the council will be submitted to the ratepayers on December 17th and as they constitute the ratification of the paving proposition and also of the municipal ownership policy they will undoubtedly be looked forward to with considerable interest.

The street car bylaw does not contemplate the purchase of any equipment nor of anything else but the steel. The purchase of the rolling stock, the new electric power plant required and the money necessary for car barns and all other such buildings will have to be provided for by a later bylaw.

The present bylaw is being rushed forward in order to guarantee that the steel will be here and everything ready to go on with the track laying when the paving is commenced.

The following is the report of the commissioners, based on which the bylaws were framed:

REPORT OF COMMISSIONERS.

For the Paving of Other Streets Now Contemplated.

STRATHCONA NEWS

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Strathcona town council were in regular session last night till a few minutes after eleven o'clock. The mayor occupied the chair and there was a full board present.

The Waterworks Engine Co. wrote urging that the fire apparatus, especially the chemical engine, be carefully looked after and recommending the purchase of an electric igniter. The communication was referred to the fire, water and light committee.

Second Vice-President Whyte, of the C. P. R., wrote accepting service of a document from the city re closing of certain streets bylaw on behalf of Mr. McNichol, president of the C. & E.

A letter was read from D. McLeod asking for balance of money, $11.50, realized by the sale of three impounded cows which he believed to be the best of his knowledge belonged to him. A motion was carried that the money be paid over to him when he gave the council sufficient proof of ownership.

With reference to the high level bridge and the traffic section, John Stocks, deputy minister of public works, wrote that the minister was unable to make a definite statement till the decision of the Federal government was known.

The offer of George McDonald for wood on the east end of Whyte street was not accepted and the public works committee were instructed to arrange his account.

The secretary-treasurer and the engineer were also instructed to prepare an approximate estimate of the area of Strathcona, as asked for by Mr. Stocks.

An offer of $285 by Pollard Bros. for the Hobbs' heater was refused and the price fixed at $325.

The Goldie McCullough Co. wrote asking for 50 per cent. on the first machinery received and C. S. Lott, Calgary, wrote enclosing the transfer of land from the C. & E. to Strathcona for the C. P. R. bonus.

A number of accounts were passed and on motion the voters' list was confirmed.

Councillor Elliott, on behalf of the health and relief committee reported that the tender of the Portable House Co. for nurses cottage was accepted at the price of $505. There will also be a small lay-out for timbers, etc., underneath.

A resolution urging the necessity of a new C. P. R. station and asking that District Superintendent R. R. Jamieson bring the matter to the attention of the officials of the company, was passed and ordered to be forwarded to Mr. Jamieson.

Mayor Sheppard reported on the interview with C. P. R. Vice-President Whyte last week. The latter was pleased that some progress had been made and thought it was only a matter of detail to complete arrangements. He thought the bridge might be completed in twelve months and if sufficient assistance from the local and federal governments was obtained, the traffic part could be done at the same time. Work on the new yards would be commenced as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

The early closing bylaw left over from last meeting again came up, as the petition for its enforcement had since been sufficiently signed. It provides for retail stores closing all day Sunday and from 6.30 p.m. to 7 a.m. every other day except before holidays. The penalty is a fine of $50 and costs. The trades affected by its enactment are grocery, hardware, dry goods, boots and shoes and clothing. It appeared that the bylaw would pass its three readings last night and go into effect on Dec. 1st, but Councillor McKenzie objected to the early date for its going into effect and as a unanimous vote is required for third reading and he dissented, the bylaw stood over again for its third reading until next meeting.

The bylaw transferring land to Andrew McLaggan was given its three readings and passed, its former passage having been illegal owing to a technicality.

With reference to the question of furnishing a site for the proposed Bailey soap works, Mayor Sheppard urged that some definite action be taken in the matter. If it was decided to grant a site the matter had better be settled and a bylaw in accordance prepared.

The question was discussed at some length and it was decided that a bylaw be drafted and the mayor, Councillors McFarlane and McKenzie were appointed a committee to negotiate further with Mr. Bailey for an amended proposition.

Mayor Sheppard reported that he thought the Edmonton council would shortly be able to submit terms on the telephone proposition and suggested that the Strathcona council should consider what terms would be suitable. He thought the town should receive a stated revenue yearly per telephone installed, and besides Strathcona should also get reductions in phone rates the same as Edmonton people got. He thought if, say a 15 years franchise were given that this town should get about $2 per phone on the first 150 phones, over 150 to $4 per phone, over 350 to 500, $5 per phone.

The members talked over the proposed conditions at considerable length and after some further discussion on the opening of the new hospital books, etc., the council adjourned.

NO COMMISSION APPOINTED.

In a recent issue of the Toronto Globe it was stated in the western correspondence that the government of Alberta had appointed a commission to investigate the alleged practice of polygamy among the Mormons of Southern Alberta. The Bulletin called upon Premier Rutherford who when asked if he had seen the Globe's letter replied that he had read the letter and was much surprised at such a statement. He said it was news to him. The government has had no cause to take such action. No complaints have been made to the government charging the Mormons with polygamy, and further, it is not known to exist in this province. The Globe's correspondent was apparently misinformed.

By-Laws To Be Submitted (Continued from Page One)

the street railway system and credited against that portion of the cost of street paving debited to the municipality at large.

For Street Paving Generally. We have not yet fully considered how far this plan may be equitably applicable to all streets, but so far as we have looked into this it appears reasonable to apply it to all streets with the possible exception of boulevard residential streets, for the reason of the boulevards being paid for in full by frontage assessments, and of boulevard avenues in residential districts in view of the fact that these avenues run along the sides of residential properties throwing the entire burden of frontage assessment upon four corner lots in each block.

This question can be dealt with when the occasion arises.

General Remarks.

Jasper avenue has been given a preferential percentage on account of its greater width and its being the main business artery of the city, this preference, however, has not been stretched beyond the point of equalizing the cost to the individual owners which has been approximately estimated in all cases to form an annual charge of 70c for bitulithic and 80c for carbolinum block per foot.

As it has been pointed out that it not only takes time to provide rails but the present state of the market is such that the supply is uncertain and the price liable to a considerable advance it becomes necessary to take action in this matter at once in view of the fact that track laying is part of the paving plan and must be dealt with at the same time. We have already entered in our correspondence with the manufacturers to obtain prices and delivery dates and that we may be in a position to avail ourselves of the opportunity.

The reason for spreading this cost over 20 years is that although the pavement has only a guaranteed life time of 10 years it may be reasonably expected to outlast that period and even should it fail in places the necessary repairs of such breaks, or surface renewals, should not form too heavy a maintenance charge for an equal period of time.

To maintain the principal of equalization of cost to property owners it was found necessary to deal with the cost of street railway pavement as a part of the proportion of cost chargeable to the city at large and also because of all properties having equal benefit of street pavement, from curb to curb, whether street car tracks are laid thereon or not. In so far as the street railway is concerned it appears reasonable and just to charge up the full cost of street paving over the full width of tracks as a part of the initial cost of the system which should be taken care of entirely by street railway earnings and form no burden upon the taxpayers of the city.

Anticipating the approval of the council to these suggestions, forms of petitions have been put in hands for signature by property owners as valuable time may be gained and the undertaking approved and authorized by the people interested and responsible for the heaviest part of the liability instead of employing the slower

A WORKING COUNCIL.

The enormous public works program is not the only legacy of unfinished business the council of 1907 will inherit from their predecessors. There remain also a large number of problems to be handled on, some partially solved, others not yet beyond the stage of discussion. Some of these are matters of vital, and all of great, importance, and they will form no inconsiderable part of the business requiring attention at the hands of the new council.

First in importance among these is the extension of public utilities, which for the coming and many succeeding years must be an uncompleted job, but one on which work must not be suspended. It must be a matter of primary concern with the city council to extend the water and sewer mains, the electric light system and the telephone system in keeping with the progress of the city. Sanitary conditions are of first consequence and these can only be secured by a continuously active program of extension of the water and sewer systems.

The city has now nearing completion an isolation hospital, built for the purpose of handling cases of contagious disease more efficiently and preventing them developing epidemics. It will be necessary to provide for the management and operation of this institution at an early date and when this is being done the opportunity will be offered for establishing a modern system in the protection of the public health. The suggestion has been made that the powers and duties of the medical health officer of the city should be extended to include a more rigid sanitary inspection, more independence of action regarding a quarantine and a suitable measure of control over other matters which directly affect the public health of the community. The present council has not taken the question up practically, but the necessity of a broader scheme for meeting the problems arising from the growth of the city is generally acknowledged and the matter will probably demand some solution during the coming year.

The railway situation will probably require some attention also during 1907. Assuming that the C. P. R. agreement will be completed during the life of the present council the railway problem will have been solved, but the solution will be on paper only. It will remain for the coming council to carry out the obligations of the city, and what is of not less importance to see that the companies carry out their parts of the bargains.

The city's fire-fighting equipment will probably require extension during the year. The necessity of establishing branch fire stations at an early date has been discussed during the year, also the need of an alarm system. The latter is a demand of the moment, while the former cannot be long delayed. The duplication of the water mains from the power house to the tower and the installation of an additional pump, has been discussed as a means of improving our protection against fire. All these questions will be handed forward for solution to the new council. One of them that of the alarm system, was provided for by the council last night, and its installation will be one of the items of next year's business.

Little has yet been officially done toward improving local trade or developing the city industrially. A market square was purchased some years since, but little more has been done to bring the producer from the country and the purchaser in the city together. The construction of market buildings where the farmer and the consumer can meet in all weather and at all seasons has frequently inspired the oratory of aldermanic aspirants but has not yet been brought into the realm of accomplishment. Neither has an active policy been undertaken to secure the location of industrial enterprises.

During the year two parks have been purchased by the city and plans are now being prepared for a general beautification scheme. The coming year should see some move along the line of developing the parks and toward the accomplishment of this plan for making the city beautiful.

With the large program of public works these will form part, but by no means all, the legacy of business bequeathed to the council of 1907. Clearly, if that council is to fulfil its duty it must be essentially a body of workers and no man is justified in aspiring to membership who is not prepared to give in unusually large measure his best time and thought to the city's welfare.

ONE OF THE PIONEERS.

The funeral of the late John Brown, who died on Sunday evening at the City Hospital, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. His partner, Mr. D. S. Curry, city controller, Winnipeg, is expected to arrive in the city this evening by the C. N. R.

The late John Brown was one of the oldest residents of the city of Edmonton, having come to this district in the early 70s from the Kootenay country. The early part of his life is not definitely known. The main facts are that he came from Kirkcubrightshire, Scotland, at the age of nineteen years, and settled in Pennsylvania, where he engaged in coal mining for a period of about five years. Part of this period was spent in Illinois. About 1852 he went to California, to engage in gold mining. From there he came to the Kootenay country. It is not known on what date he landed in British Columbia, but those who were best acquainted with Mr. Brown, fix it about 1858. In the Kootenay country he met Charles Stevens and Charles Clark, known more familiarly as English Charlie and Scotch Charlie.

Some two or three years later Brown and his old-time comrade met again and decided to come northward to the mountains where they prospected in the vicinity of the Mountain Fort and North Ford. About 1868 John Brown and Jim Reid are supposed to have first reached Edmonton. He went back to the Kootenay, but returning to the Mountain House, came down to Edmonton in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company to supply in 1872. While waiting at Edmonton, Sanford Fleming, now Sir Sanford, Prof. Macdon and Mr. Horetsky, arrived in Edmonton, in connection with the trial surveys for the C. P. R. through the Yellowhead route. Mr. Brown engaged with them as a guide through the mountains. Fleming, Macdon and Mr. Horetsky went to the Peace River, while Mr. Brown, conducted Sanford Fleming through the Yellow Head until he received guides from the Pacific coast. In the winter of 1877 he was left in charge of a base of supplies for the survey at the Henry House, not far from the Jagger House. Receiving no advice from headquarters, he returned to Edmonton and went to Winnipeg to get an explanation of the delay. He returned with instructions to bring the survey to Edmonton and sail them. He transported them to Fort Assiniboine from which point they were freighted to Edmonton. He had the supplies put up at auction, $25.50 being paid for a hundred weight of the flour. The flour came from Clinton, B. C., and was brought through from the coast to the Henry House.

The next year 1878 he was placed in charge of the commissariat and the horses of the Government survey. Towards the end of 1879 he returned to Winnipeg with the horses, where he remained in charge of the entire number of Government survey horses until the summer of 1880. In that year he formed a business partnership with Mr. D. S. Curry of Winnipeg, to carry on the business of general merchants at Winnipeg and Edmonton.

Mr. Brown returned to Edmonton and opened the first general store in Edmonton in the fall of 1880. The business was conducted in a log shack near the cut bank opposite the R. N. W. M. P. barracks. The shack was erected by Donald McLeod, and has since been removed, and the ground on which it stood has slipped down the escarpment. Next year he acquired a squatter's right on Main street, where he erected a log store, and continued in business until a few years ago, when he removed his store as a fur house to the McMillan Co., of St. Paul.

When Jasper avenue was properly surveyed, it was found that his log store was on the right of way. He protested against moving it and carried the matter to the courts, but without avail. The building was purchased by Matthew McCauley and removed to Queen's avenue, and used as the Salvation Army barracks. The building is now occupied as the Dominion dining hall. On the old site, but removed from the street, the present building was erected and has been Mr. Brown's place of residence until his decease.

Mr. Charles W. Suter was the first clerk in Mr. Brown's store. His first met Brown in Winnipeg in 1879. Nothing is known of Mr. Brown's relatives as they are all in the old country. He has often spoken of two cousins who were older than he, but beyond that nothing is known. Mr. Brown had gathered considerable wealth, but how much and how he disposed of it is not as yet known.

FROM DAY TO DAY

THE WIPE

"Nay, do not bid me go (she said),
For I must guard his sleep."
(On wall and floor the candles made Flickering shadow, shade on shade;
Without an April robin sung
Of trust that love doth keep,
But here, faint scent of violets clung
And lilies tall their censers swung.)
"Mine eyes must look their fill (she said).
They have no time to weep."

"Twelve years of love (she said),
And yet the half not told!"
(The candles touched with tender light
Her hair and his so white, so white;
Her eyes, wherein the visioned Past
Lay like a chart unrolled.
In whose dim seas, star-girdled, vast,
The long years were but plumetta cast.)
"They only know Love's deeps (she
said),
"Who loving, have grown old."

Babies of his flesh I bore (she said),
Fair girl and lusty son."
(They pressed her side with yearning
dear,
Her children brought their children
near,
Love folded her and love caress,
And yet she was alone)

"Ye—ye have drawn life at my breast,
But ere ye came, it gave him rest.
Mother of many I am (she said),
I was the wife of one."

"Yes,—we have lived and loved (she
said),
What counts this passing pain?"
(About her in the candle's flame,
A sudden glory went and came.)

"What counts this hour I wait until
We love and live again?
Bear out his body where ye will—
He stays—my Love, my bridegroom,
still!"
God made us one—the living God—
Death cannot make us twain!"
Edna Proctor Clarke.

A WOMAN'S WILL

When lovely woman will she will, in spite of red-tape rules. This story of Mrs. Heidt as told in American papers may not be exactly true, but it deserves to be. It says that calmly disobeying and defying the whole United States government, President Roosevelt included, Mrs. Grace McKinley Heidt, niece of the late President McKinley,
disguised herself as a cavalry officer, stowed away on the transport, Dix at Seattle and accompanied her husband to the Philippines.

In July Mrs. Grace McKinley was married to Captain Grayson Heidt of the Eleventh cavalry at Fort Des Moines. They expected to spend their honeymoon in the United States. But the war department had other plans. It was an order for Captain Heidt to proceed forthwith to the Philippines. His wife accompanied him to Seattle, where he was to take the transport, Dix, a provision ship. But his wife found herself barred by government red tape a mile high. Women are forbidden to travel on that particular transport.
In her despair the girl bride appealed to Secretary Taft and next to the president. Both said that the rules could not be broken. Then Mrs. Mc-Kinley appealed on the girl's behalf without success. The president even went so far as to forbid the girl to proceed to the Philippines on the transport.

The lovers parted tearfully at the wharf. Mrs. Heidt said she could not bear to see her husband sail away.
Then she hurried to the hotel and lastly donned one of the captain's old uniforms and proceeded to board.
In the bustle of getting away she was unobserved.

Three days later a steward discovered the girl stowed away in the hold, faint from lack of food. It then condition her husband found her. There was a joyful meeting though under unhappy circumstances. The ship officials finally forgave the girl and permitted to take her to Manila. Word of her escape came in a letter, which Mrs. Heidt wrote to friends here and it is supposed to keep the dark secret

still.

WINNING HIS WAY

Bishop Ohmsted, as soon as he took here of a graceful story that was told in a Denver church the other day.
Bishop Ohmsted, as soon as he took up his residence—some three years ago
—in Denver, began to take a great interest in the Denver poor, and was continually to be seen in the poorest and squalid of the city's slums.

At first, as the bishop in his clerical attire passed along the narrow streets, the loungers and loafers before the saloon would say:
"What's that?"
And the reply would be:
"That's what you call a bishop."
A year passed, and a stranger, noting the respectable way the bishop was stared at in the slums would say:
"Who's that there?"
The lazzari reply would be:
"The bishop."

Another year, and then to the question, "Who's that?" would come the affectionate and proud answer:
"Why, that's our bishop,"
more

THE ROSCIANS.

The Roscian Company scored a decided success Monday in their double bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pin-afore," notwithstanding the difficulties of acoustic arrangements—or lack of them—in the rink. Edmonton society accorded full patronage, offering an excellent house, and in the usual old favorite "Pinafore" expressed with rounds of applause what they more appropriately conveyed in silence during the intense scenes of "Cavalleria"—their decided approval.

In the part of Santuzza Miss Nola had at last an adequate vehicle for her emotional power. It is the showing forth of the mystery of a god woman's love enfolding an unworthy man, rising above all contumely, doing all things, but forgetting—the mystery that is only excitable by recognition of a somewhat in the man that such love can finally save.

As Santuzza, Miss Nola was moving, intense, splendid at times. She excelled herself as never previously in this engagement, and suggested more than once
the finish of a Savage Company success. In her earnestness she dropped the mannerisms that had distressed her acting before, and it was of nervous force made her voice somewhat shrill, occasionally, it was a pardonable fault taken in connection with her strong dramatic power. In fact a real Santuzza would be very apt to grow shrill as women's voices under strong nervous tension will do. But Santuzza's enunciation was remarkably clear.

Turnpin's acting was as impressively in earnest as ever, and there were times when Mr. Walters would have received applause if Edmonton could have only separated the thought of the man from the objectionable role he played.
Mr. Walters was so evidently suffering from a cold that his fine voice was very much in jeopardy. Mr.
Billard Campbell as Alfio, was a strong recruit to the company, his acting and voice combining effectively to fill his part. He impersonated his contemptuous husband admirably.
Lusia was a sympathetic old mother.
Lola, a beguiling Turpin, acted her part with finesse, but Lola, confronted with her shame and a contentious husband, was weak.

To the people who love the familiar old music of Cavalleria, the interlude was satisfying. The music, under the direction of Carl Von Wegner was excellent.

Coming to "Pinafore," which served as an excellent foil to "Cavalleria," the honors in this friend of our school-days lay in the singing, with Capt. Corcoran
(Mr. Campbell) and the girlish Josephine (Miss Nola), the latter responding with a hearty chorus. But as interesting the delicious vein of satire that runs through this opera, a notable success was achieved by the imposing old official, Sir Joseph, and the irrepressible Dick. These characters were respectively taken by the two comedians, Mr.
Dewey and Mr. Flavella. In producing ripples of laughter, they were ably assisted by Miss Goldray as Little Butterfly.

The audience's good opinion of the latter might be summed up in Capt. Cor-coran's emphatic remark "This is a pleasant person—a very pleasant person." Miss Crowley, as a rosy, rosy-ish Hebe was excellent, the part admirably, suiting her youth and girlish merriment. Capt. Corcoran was the strong figure of the opera from start to close. Ralph Rickard (Mr. Walters) made a masterly effort to overcome his cold and filled his part quite acceptably. Mr. J. A. Lawton came out of the comparative obscurity of the chorus and made a gentlemanly, sympathetic confidant of the love-begone Ralph.

The choruses in this opera were particularly good, more animated in manner and stronger in their rendering of catchy choruses than they have been.
They seemed to have caught the spirit of the evening—that the company had promised Edmonton a more than ordinarily pleasing production, and that they were all at the "making good" their promise.

It was not a Covent Garden production, but in music, acting, scenery and details of costume, it was an uncommonly good one for a small company.
The manager of the company, Mr. Ward, in announcing "Pinafore" for tonight, stated that Mr. Billard Campbell will take the title role in that play.

CURTAIN LECTURE.

The wife, sitting up for her husband, thought that somebody had accompanied him home, and said:
"Has the stranger gone? I didn't hear him."

"Oh, no, dear, he hasn't gone," the husband replied. "I have instructed the maid to let him out in three or four hours."

The wife looked amazed and stupe-
fied.

"What—why—why on earth is he,
anyway?" she stammered.

"My dear," said the husband quietly, "he is a shorthand reporter. You see, I nearly always forget what you say to me during your discourse from 11 to 2, and sometimes I go to sleep
while you're talking. So I thought I'd have your lecture written out tonight and study it at my leisure.
The young man is all ready, the door is open, so that he can hear you,
and you may begin as soon as you like."

ROYAL CHRISTMAS CARDS.

The good old-fashioned custom of giving Christmas cards, which at one time threatened to become extinct, has always received the greatest encouragement from royalty.

The Queen, who despatches cards
only to these she numbers among her intimate friends, spends much time and consideration not only in the choice of an appropriate subject, but in the simple words of good cheer.

"The royal cards," says Mr. A.
Tock, of firm of Raphael Tuck & Co., London, Eng., "are always designed by an A.R.A., one of the best known and most promising artists of the day."

"The King has chosen an interesting subject for his card. It is em-blematical of the alliance between England and Japan, and is carried out in colors. The scene depicts a British admiral in full uniform,
leading out a noble Japanese princess
to the dance."

The Queen's Card.

"The Queen's card is one of the most artistic that we have ever had the privilege of supplying. The picture represents a beautiful Danish cottage."

"The Danish cottager turns out
from his cosy hut on Christmas eve, accompanied by his family, to bind a bundle of hay on the eaves of his homestead, so that the birds may be warm and cosy also during the festive season."

"The Queen's card, which is enclosed in cream vellum, tied with lilac ribbons, depicts the prince in delicate water colors. The little cottage is covered with snow. The good man stands on a stool, fastening the kindly protection for his feathered friends. The good wife stands by with her children clustered at her knee, one little fair haired girl holding the lantern."

"The Prince and Princess of Wales always prefer a homely card. They have chosen for this season a view of York Cottage, Sandringham, with their five children playing happily in the foreground. The card is delightfully full of fun and merriment."

CAPTAIN EXONERATED

Bulletin Special.
Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 19.—Captains Gaudin, J. Moore and J. Graham Cox, sitting as special commissioners to investigate the accident to the C. P. R. steamer Princess Victoria on October 16 completed their inquiry today, exonerating Captain Hickey. The Princess while en route from Vancouver here was run on Lewis reef, sustaining damage approximately $30,000. She is still repairing.

TOWN WIPED OUT

Bulletin Special.
Gadsden, Ala., Nov. 20.—A tornado struck the little town of Hennagar, Dekato county, Sunday morning, at daylight and not a building is left standing. Fifteen stores and houses were reduced to shillars. Hennagar was twelve miles from the nearest railroad station. No fatalities are reported.

TROUBLE ENDED

Bulletin Special.
Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 19.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers said today that whatever the difficulties existing between the operators and miners in the Crow's Nest Pass coal fields of British Columbia they are all over now. Now that the men will go back to work, President Mitchell declines to say which side won in the strike, but says the men will work under their old agreement with the operators.

SOUTHERN STORMS

Bulletin Special.
Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 20.—As more detailed reports are received from the portions of Alabama, north and central Mississippi and West Tennessee, swept by the wind and rain storms for forty-eight hours, the situation increases in seriousness.

Following the wind storm of Saturday night rain has fallen almost continuously throughout this territory and practically the entire country is under water to the depth of several feet. Creeks and small streams are overflowing their banks, and many persons have been forced from their homes. From Wisconsin, Maine, and Madison, Miss., complete reports were received today. The total damage to these towns is estimated at $300,000. Miles of railway tracks and bridges have been washed away, telephones and telegraphic communication destroyed and several car traffic blocked to such an extent on several lines that operations have been temporarily suspended.

THE REGINA FIRE

Bulletin Special.
Regina, Nov. 20.—No new developments regarding the fatal Windsor Hotel fire have taken place. The brigade have been directing their efforts to pulling down the walls remaining standing, falling them into the street so that they will be able to work among the ruins and get to the remains of the victims. It is feared that the death list will be swollen beyond the three known killed, but it will be practically impossible to determine definitely until the papers in the safe are secured, and it is quite possible that these are charred beyond recognition. Spirits and wine stored in the cellar have been burning and even at this hour an occasional blast of flames stops any attempt to enter the ruins. There is scarcely a chance that the bodies will be found in a recognizable condition. D. D. McLeod, the proprietor, places the total loss at $125,000, which will make the net loss $85,000. The building was substantially erected thirteen years ago at a cost of $5,000 and owing to enhanced price of labor and material could not be built now for less than $25,000. Furniture and fixtures are estimated at $25,000 and the stock in hand at $15,000. The guests at the hotel numbered many prominent business men and there is loss all their personal effects. Considerable distress exists and the difficulty of housing the outcasts is taxing the resources of the various relief committees.

THE HAMILTON TROUBLE

Bulletin Special.
Hamilton, Nov. 19.—To-morrow night will see the dragons quartered in Hamilton. This afternoon when the company arrived Mayor Biggar, that it would operate for a day to-night, the mayor asked it not to do so, as he thought it would only invite trouble and the police were not strong enough to give adequate protection. The company was at first obdurate and the mayor summoned two justices of the peace, Magistrate Jeffs and W. C. Moore, as the statute provides that the mayor and two justices of the peace may call out the militia. Sheriff Mitchell was also present at the conference, which was held behind locked doors. It is understood, however, that they agreed to send for dragons. The company finally backed out, however, and consented not to operate at night until to-morrow. On that understanding the call for the militia was delayed until to-morrow. Although the cars were taken into the barns before dark to-day there were two serious disturbances and car windows were shattered with snow balls, stones and bricks.

WHAT HE SAW

Among numerous other evidences of the interest in Canada's resources being awakened in financial circles in Great Britain, it is recalled that last summer the "Financial and Bullionist" of London, England, a daily paper of high standing in British financial circles, sent their editor, Mr. R. J. Barrett, on a tour through this Dominion for the purpose of looking closely into the country's natural resources, that the paper might be able to speak with authority. Among other places visited, Mr. Barrett spent a day or two in Edmonton, and was shown about and provided with a good deal of information, by Mr. Turnbull of the Bank of Commerce, the secretary of the board of trade and others. In an issue of the "Financial and Bullionist" of the 31st of October, Mr. Barrett devotes three columns, describing in enthusiastic language some of the things he saw in the west. The net result of his observations are summed up in the following conclusions, which are printed in large type:

"That Canada is on the eve of a period of commercial development only equalled in the history of the United States of America."

"That there are numerous openings for the profitable investment of British capital."

"That the Americans are keenly alive to the great commercial and agricultural possibilities of the country, and are flocking over the border in their thousands."

"That England's influence is greatly regretted by many loyal Canadians."

"That the Bank Act of Canada is the finest Banking Act in the world."

"That there are splendid openings for men with small capital—anything from $250 to $1,000—in the towns springing up in all directions in the North-West."

"That the country is just crying for skilled mechanics and labor for the railroads."

"That clerks and 'remittance men' are 'not wanted.'"

UPPER CANADA BIBLE SOCIETY
T. W. Goodwin, M.A., rector of St. Joseph church, Nepean, was in the city this week in connection with his work on behalf of the Upper Canada Bible Society. On Sunday he spoke in All Saints and Grace Methodist church.

When seen by the Bulletin on Monday morning, Mr. Goodwin said that the first Sunday in December was to be recognized as a Bible Society day with a special collection in aid of the society's work.

The Upper Canada Bible Society was organized in Toronto in 1829. It is an auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society and has 600 branches in Canada. The western branches are under the direction of the Winnipeg office. The society has collectors at work in the new parts of Canada in Alberta, and the Yukon, selling the Bible at cost. Last year the Canadian Bible Society gave $20,000 to the British and Foreign Bible Society to aid in its world-wide work, while $5,000 was sent to Quebec in aid of French colportage work.

The society is the willing agent of the churches. Its unalterable policy is to give the Bible without note or comment in the language of the people to all the nations of the earth. This work costs the parent society $1,191,405. Last year 5,977,455 complete or portions of the scriptures were disseminated by the British and Foreign Bible Society. Scores of translators, revisers and native assistants upon fresh versions. Eleven new names of languages were added to the society's list of translations during the past year. Many of the churches and missionary societies draw upon the translation in their work.

The work in Canada consists of supplying the Bible to the people in 41 different languages. The Bible Society has translations of Scripture in the mother-tong of all races in Canada—Galician (Ruthenian), Poles, Pinnas, Hungarian, Indians, Eskimos, Scandinavians, Germans, Manitoias, French, Italians, Greeks, Chinese and Japanese, etc.—at prices within the reach of the poorest.

These useful foreign rates are mostly ignorant of the Gospel. No mission can speak all their languages as the Bible does. Set free from their old restraints and superstitions, enjoying the liberties of their new country, they can be reached and influenced as never before and never again. Put the Bible in their hands; they will read it when they see it in the mother-tong of their native land. Many of the British settlers here it not less than they. Without it saving soil, young Canada would have a hybrid pagan civilization established in the spacious West. Colporteurs are at work, but in a together inadequate numbers. More of these Bible messengers must be sent out among the tens of thousands in lumbering, logging and mining camps in British Columbia, the Pacific coast region, the Ottawa and the Maritime Provinces; to the huts and homesteads on the prairies; the foreigners' settlements, the Roman Catholics of Quebec Province; to scattering men on Atlantic seaboard, the Great Lakes and the Pacific Coast.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that application will be made to the Legislature of the Province of Alberta, at its next session, for an Act confirming the agreement entered into between the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company and the Corporation of the City of Edmonton, dated the 6th day of March, A.D., 1906, and the By-Law recited therein, being By-Law No. 7 of the City of Edmonton, entitled "A By-Law to provide for the granting of a bonus of $100,000 to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, and for granting exemption from taxation to the said Company, and for other purposes," and also By-Law No. 75 of the City of Edmonton, entitled "A By-Law to provide for raising the sum of $75,000 to purchase the land required to fulfill the agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, and to purchase land which the City may hereafter sell or lease to Industrial Concerns, or otherwise dispose of for municipal purposes."

Dated this 19th day of November, 1906.

ELECTION ADDRESS

To the electors of the City of Edmonton.

In asking for your support in the coming election for mayor I maintain as old time residents will admit that the city's interests have always received my best consideration. But there are a large number of electors who have come to our city within recent years with whom I have no acquaintance whose influence and vote I also solicit.

I have served the city two years as Alderman at a considerable sacrifice of time from my business, and though I cannot flatter myself that I have pleased "all the people all the time," during my term, still I hope that on the whole my actions have in general met with your approval.

I cannot conscientiously say that I have in every case done what in my judgment was considered to be for the best interest of the city at large; and have known no such thing as discrimination in favor of one part of the city against the other.

In view of the great undertakings before the city for the coming year, your mayor will of necessity have to spend the greater portion of his time in attending to the city's business. This if elected, I am prepared to do. I am of the opinion that the time has now arrived to build the street railway, and think that construction should proceed at the same time as the street paving, and am pleased to state that this railway will belong to the municipality.

Re parks, though realizing that the large parks on the outskirts of the city are a necessity for the future and will be more appreciated in years to come, still it is my opinion that the parks that are of the most vital interest to the majority of our citizens are small plots conveniently situated in different parts of the city, and that are easily accessible to the residents in that immediate vicinity; and think that such plots should be bought and beautified at the expense of the city at large.

Re city government, I must admit that the two years experience of our present commissioner system has improved me much more in its favor than I was at its inception, and am favorable to its continuance; of course with the understanding that improvements may be made when it is demonstrated that such improvements are necessary to the best welfare of the city. Further to define our present city government, my opinion is this. The electors are the shareholders, the council the directors, the commissioners the business management, and in order that we may have the best results, I think the citizens and the aldermen should consult with the commissioner in a business way offering any suggestions they may have for the benefit of the city and in this way I think much better results will be obtained than by finding fault with the business management.

Respectfully,

THOS. BELLAMY.
